

Resident Involvement Reward and Recognition Policy

1.0 Aim and scope

We promote an inclusive resident involvement model, welcoming the views and ideas of our residents. We recognise that we need resident engagement to identify local community issues as well as wider, more strategic, issues and to influence Notting Hill Genesis' (NHG) approach going forward.

This policy details how we will recognise the involvement of residents in the resident involvement network and reward their contribution. We have benchmarked our approach to rewards and recognition in line with G15 housing associations.

This policy applies to all resident involvement activities across NHG.

This policy does not apply to resident board member or board sub-committee roles where remuneration is provided within the Governance structure. Residents who hold these positions are welcome to take part in resident involvement activities that are outside the remit of their governance role and will receive the same rewards as others.

This policy does not apply to formal volunteering activities which are covered by our volunteer's policy.

2.0 Rewarding residents

We believe that everyone's time and effort should be recognised and rewarded when working with us to help improve our services to residents. As recognition of that, we incentivise our residents to engage with us as a part of our resident involvement offer.

We recognise that to ensure continued improvement to services, we need to work together with residents and take on board their recommendations to make a difference. This means residents giving up their time to work with us.

We understand that recognition of residents' work and time commitments through various means, including rewards and incentives, goes a long way to build stronger partnerships with our residents.

We have a consistent approach to reward and recognition which applies equally to all residents and delivers value for money to NHG.

To make our rewards structure as fair as possible to all residents, monetary compensation is not provided as involvement activities are not considered as paid work. Remuneration in the form of monetary payments would also be deemed as a salary, which has tax and benefits implications, for both residents and NHG. All rewards offered are not taxable.

We recognise and reward residents who actively take part in involvement activities in a range of ways, including:

- We hold regular events to say thank you to our residents for their time and involvement.
- We offer shopping vouchers to residents who have been actively part of task and finish projects from beginning to end, and other one-off exercises that involve a substantial investment of time such as procurement exercises and complaints reviews. More detail on eligibility for these vouchers is shown in appendix 1.
- Shopping vouchers of between £20-40 will be offered per eligible project and will usually be emailed to residents upon completion. Where possible, the value of the reward will be stated when residents are invited to participate. Where residents have committed a significant amount of time and added a lot of value to a project, additional rewards may be given as a thank you. Any vouchers are offered in addition to expenses. The value of vouchers will not negatively impact residents in receipt of benefits.
- We hold twice yearly prize draws, with five winners each time, where all involved residents who have completed short ad-hoc involvement activities are entered. The draws will take place in summer and winter. Each winner will receive a £50 voucher.
- Residents who participate in any oversight groups or any temporary monitoring group work will also receive a shopping voucher after a year's worth of meeting participation, values of which will differ.
- For some projects or to incentivise responses for completion of a survey for example, we may also one-off prize draws as well.

We will work closely with all areas of the organisation to create a flexible approach to ensure that residents can get involved in all types of activity in a way that suits them.

Further details are set out in Appendix 1.

3.0 Recognising the contribution of residents

We are proud of our resident involvement initiatives and regularly communicate and promote achievements of our residents across the organisation and externally to residents and partners.

We are open and honest about our performance. What is working well and what needs improvement is under constant scrutiny and is openly shared with residents.

In addition to offering rewards, we will recognise the contribution of our involved residents by:

- Considering all comments and suggestions.

- Reporting back when action is taken in response to recommendations made, and explaining where changes have not been agreed.
- Regularly communicating opportunities and promoting the achievements made by our residents.
- Providing training and support for residents who would like to gain new skills within their role, either within NHG or using external providers.
- Funding places to external conferences (such as CIH, TPAS etc.) for our involved residents, especially if it may assist residents in their involvement roles
- Providing reference letters for employment and educational/training opportunities.

4.0 Expenses

Where involved residents incur expenses when taking part in resident involvement activities we will:

- Reimburse the cost of childcare or another carer if agreed prior to an activity.
- Reimburse reasonable public travel costs.
- Reimburse mileage when residents use their own vehicle for an involvement activity. However, in an event of an accident, theft, or damage NHG is not liable in any way.
- Reimburse taxi travel for residents with mobility/support issues (only when pre-approved by the Resident Involvement Team).
- Book transport for the resident only when the resident is unable to do so and will aim to book the preferred vehicle type for individuals when requested where possible. If we are made aware that the preferred vehicle type is unavailable for hire at that time, the resident will be contacted as soon as possible to discuss alternative arrangements.

All involved residents are covered by our public liability insurance.

The full Resident Involvement Expenses Claim Guidelines are available on request.

5.0 Residents' Associations

Active and recognised NHG Resident Associations (RAs) and the activities of residents who are active in them are not individually rewarded under this policy. However, individual members of RAs are able to take part in any other resident involvement activities and will be rewarded in line with this policy for their involvement.

We welcome, encourage, and support the establishment of RAs and support our RAs by:

- Producing a guide to involvement for Residents Associations, including information on setting up a formal group, running meetings and applying for funding.
- Giving practical advice and support.
- Offering training for each lead role of the committee (Chair, Treasurer and Secretary).

- Where we recognise the RA as a constituted Resident Association, we offer financial support in the form of a start-up grant (£350) and annual renewal grants (£300).
- Signpost them to other funding opportunities either within NHG or externally (this is also available to any informal NHG community group).
- Promote external seminars, training opportunities, sector-wide initiatives and programmes.

6.0 Our approach

In writing this policy we have carried out assessments to ensure that we are considering Equality, Diversity & Inclusion and Privacy & Data Protection.
